

Monster Poem

I can draw a monster

Scary as can be

He has many heads

In fact he has three.

My monster has but seven eyes

Some big and some quite small.

At least one single tiny eye is found upon his jaw.

One hand has feathers, the other a claw

Two more hands looks like paws.

His feet are wide and kind of flat

And on his body, the wings of a bat.

He is wearing clothes

What could they be?

You draw them on and get ready to show me
